National Association For Retail Marketing Services

If you are looking for higher paying merchandising, demo, and retail industry jobs, you should check out the job board on the NARMS (National Association For Retail Marketing Services) website. You can find all types of part-time and full-time jobs there, through a city or state search.

NARMS specializes in information about the retail industry. They not only provide information about jobs, but they also post informative, up-to-date retail industry information.

Here are some of the jobs that are posted on the job board right now:

- Reset Merchandiser $12.50/hr
- Office Superstore Merchandisers $10.00/hr
- Product Spokesperson/Demonstrator For Warehouse Clubs $25,000 to
- $50,000 per year
- Data Collectors For Grocery, Pet, Office, And Mass Retailer Locations
- $10.00/hr

The positions above are just a few found on the job board. There are tons of jobs posted. .

Many large companies use NARMS to post their job openings. Here are just a few of the companies that post on the Narms job board:

- Hersheys
- Lego
- Nintendo
- Procter & Gamble

If you are looking for part-time or full-time positions in merchandising, product demos, or other unconventional job fields, then the NARMS job board can help you locate what you are looking for. Many of the positions offer flexibility, and let you make your own hours. Also, you can find a better rate of pay because of the extensive job opportunities offered on the board.

You can search the NARMS job board here: www.NARMS.com