National Multiple Sclerosis Society
Kentucky Southwest Indiana Chapter

About Multiple Sclerosis
Multiple sclerosis, an unpredictable, often disabling disease of the central nervous system, interrupts the flow of information within the brain, and between the brain and body. Symptoms range from numbness and tingling to blindness and paralysis. The progress, severity and specific symptoms of MS in any one person cannot yet be predicted, but advances in research and treatment are moving us closer to a world free of MS. Most people with MS are diagnosed between the ages of 20 and 50.

About the National Multiple Sclerosis Society
The National MS Society is a collective of passionate individuals who want to do something about MS now — to move together toward a world free of multiple sclerosis. We strive to help each person address the challenges of living with MS by funding cutting-edge research, driving change through advocacy, building a nationwide network of experts in MS care, and providing programs and services that help people with MS and their families move their lives forward. We are a driving force of MS research and treatment to stop disease progression, restore function, and end MS forever. We are moving to reach out and respond to individuals, families and communities living with multiple sclerosis. We are inspiring politicians to champion the needs of people with MS through activism, advocacy and influence. We are moving to mobilize the millions of people who want to do something about MS now. To advance our mission in 2012, we devoted $122.1 million to programs and services that assisted more than a million people affected by MS. We also invested $43.3 million to support more than 350 MS research projects around the world in order to stop MS in its tracks, restore what has been lost and end this disease forever. These critical investments ensure we are able to speed our progress in achieving a world free of MS. Join the movement at nationalMSsociety.org/kyw.
The National Multiple Sclerosis Society, Kentucky-Southeast Indiana Chapter is one of a 50-state network of chapters of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society.
