OUR VISION

A world free of MS.

OUR MISSION

The Society mobilizes people and resources so that everyone affected by MS can live their best lives as we stop MS in its tracks, restore what has been lost, and end MS forever.
About Multiple Sclerosis
Multiple sclerosis, an unpredictable, often disabling disease of the central nervous system, interrupts the flow of information within the brain, and between the brain and body. Symptoms range from numbness and tingling to blindness and paralysis. The progress, severity, and specific symptoms of MS in any one person cannot yet be predicted, but advances in research and treatment are moving us closer to a world free of MS. Most people with MS are diagnosed between the ages of 20 and 50, with at least two to three times more women than men being diagnosed with the disease. Even teens and young children can have MS, which affects more than 2.3 million people worldwide.

About the National MS Society
The National MS Society helps each person address the challenges of living with MS. In 2015 alone, through our national office and 50-state network of chapters, the Society devoted more than $122 million to programs and services that improved the lives of more than one million people. To move us closer to a world free of MS, the Society also invested $54 million to support more than 380 new and ongoing research projects around the world. We are people who want to do something about MS now. Join the movement at nationalMSsociety.org.

About the Greater New England Chapter
In fiscal year 2015, the Greater New England Chapter spent 82 percent of monies raised on MS education, emotional support, public policy advocacy, direct services, and MS research for nearly 21,000 individuals and their families affected by multiple sclerosis. The chapter is governed by a dedicated volunteer Board of Trustees who work in partnership with a committed professional staff to advance the Society’s mission.
Dear Friends,

This 2015 Annual Report covers the fiscal year beginning October 1, 2014 and ending September 30, 2015. Inside, you’ll find information about the National MS Society’s impact on the lives of people with MS and our fundraising efforts to support that work. At the beginning of the fiscal year, our friends in Rhode Island became part of our family of now five states: Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, and Vermont. Our diverse community of 21,000 individuals affected by MS and their families includes a host of fully engaged and dedicated people who fundraise and volunteer to create a world free of multiple sclerosis. Together, we are stronger.

Every year has its share of ups and downs and 2015 was no different as we ended with a shortfall in revenue after expenses. That said, the strength of our community kept our fundraising moving forward, generating nearly $13 million. We are confident going into the new fiscal year that we have the tools in place to succeed in all areas of our mission. Our focus remains on funding research and on helping people with MS live their best lives. We positively impact the lives of people affected by MS in many ways including:

- supporting accelerated research breakthroughs that change lives and move closer to ending MS forever;
- understanding that people with MS can live their best lives with more connections to information and resources, and to others who have shared experiences;
- listening to the voices of people affected by MS, making sure they are heard and driving change wherever it is needed, and;
- believing that everyone who wants to do something about MS can fuel progress.

We were humbled to discover that three of our chapter members were inducted into the Society’s Volunteer Hall of Fame: Ann Cabot, DO, of New Hampshire, Cpt. Robin McGraw of Massachusetts, and Howard Weiner, MD, also of Massachusetts. Michael Augustine received the Circle of Distinction award recognizing Bike MS team Velox Rota’s $1 million in cumulative fundraising. Additionally, Eli Rubenstein of our Board of Trustees, who just completed his term as National Chairman, was honored with the Lifetime Achievement Award for more than 35 years of service to the Society. We are so fortunate to have such amazing people who give of themselves completely to help end MS.

Every day, we are proud of the work of our staff and our volunteers who do their jobs with the drive of fueling impact on the lives of people with MS. We see that impact in real terms when someone receives a wheelchair ramp. We see it when we can provide respite care to allow a family caregiver time to tend to his/her own needs. We see it when research results point to opportunities for myelin repair. All of these things and more fuel our commitment to do everything we can to end MS.

We look forward to another productive year in 2016 and to creating more connections within our MS community. Remember: together, we are stronger.
Each person with MS can live their best life with more connections to information, resources, and others with shared experiences.

- We offer more programs and services than any other MS organization in the world.
- Every person affected by MS, including their families and loved ones, can connect 24/7 to the most comprehensive and reliable information and resources available, whether online, in-person or via telephone.
- Each year, 200,000 people connect to the Society’s Information Resource Center; 500,000 receive Momentum magazine; 1.9 million receive monthly eNews; 600,000 connect to those with shared experiences and experts through MSconnection.org.
- More MS specialists, including MS nurses, provide holistic, high-quality care for each person living with MS.
- We are increasing investments in wellness research, including diet, exercise and complementary and alternative therapies.

Accelerated research breakthroughs change lives and end MS forever.

- We are recognized as the catalyst for ALL major advancements in MS - we discovered and drove nerve and myelin repair in MS research.
- We fund more MS research than any other organization in the world.
- We continue to pave the way for MS treatments, none of which existed 20 years ago, and have provided early career support and funding to nearly every thought leader in MS.
- We have invested more than $870 million since our founding and have recruited more than 800 new MS researchers to the field.
- We are collaborative leaders in the International Progressive MS Alliance.

Everyone who wants to do something about multiple sclerosis can fuel progress.

- We raise more than $165 million through Bike MS, the 5th largest event in the nation, and Walk MS, the 12th largest event in the nation.
- More than 318,000 individuals donate more than $33 million each year.
- The Society is mentioned in 86% of all articles related to MS.
- We engage more than half a million volunteers through our fundraising events.
- More than 650,000 Facebook and Twitter followers drive action, awareness and engagement.

The voices of people affected by MS are heard and drive change wherever it is needed.

- More than 75,000 activists across the country have united to secure an additional $25 million in government research funding over the last six years.
- MS activists across the country share their personal stories to create positive change for everyone affected by MS.
- We increase understanding of the importance of research funding for progressive MS on Capitol Hill through briefings for congressional offices.
- MS activists work to ensure people with MS have access to treatments, information and support to make the best decisions for themselves and their families.
- We engage in the implementation of the Affordable Care Act through MS-specific education and outreach materials and trainings.
Our Vision
A World Free of MS

Programs & Services

To help people affected by MS live their best lives, the Society offers many programs and services in local communities across Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, and Vermont. Many programs take place online to remove geographic barriers for people living outside urban centers and for those with mobility and transportation difficulties.

- Health & Wellness
  The road to wellness involves more than treatment of the disease.

- Family & Relationships
  MS happens to families. Learn about the variety of resources available for you and your family.

- Financial Assistance
  Resources for when you’re struggling financially as a result of MS.

- Employment, Insurance & Financial Planning
  Navigate your employment options and plan for the future.

- Social & Emotional Support
  Connect with others in group settings or one on one.

- Mobility & Accessibility
  Resources to help you keep doing what’s important to you.

- MS Education
  Resources to get and stay informed about MS.

- Research & Clinical Trials
  Resources to stay informed on research and clinical trials.

Notable Highlights

The following are selected highlights taken from our full range of activities during fiscal year 2015.

- College Scholarships were awarded to 25 individuals in fiscal year 2015 ranging from $1,000-2,000, including 3 in Vermont, 1 in Rhode Island, 5 in Maine, 4 in New Hampshire, and 12 in Massachusetts. We are proud that Victoria Esselman, of Medford, Massachusetts, was chosen as one of the 10 students nationwide recognized as a “Top Scholar,” singled out for their academic achievements. While modest, MS Scholarships help offset the cost of student fees that can put college just out of reach for many.

- Kids Get MS Too provides a unique opportunity for families with children who have MS to spend time together in a supportive and fun environment. Family Camp weekend took place August 28-30 at the Barbara C. Harris Camp & Conference Center in Greenfield, NH. MS specialists from Boston Children’s Hospital presented an educational seminar on School & MS (transitions) and Dr. Chitnis from Partners Pediatric MS Center spoke about diet & lifestyle and also pediatric MS research studies. A young adult volunteer and teen living with MS both facilitated a session for the kids on “Fears about the Future.”

- Home Links (Live Independently Navigating Key Services) is a care management program that helps people with multiple sclerosis connect with services and programs that provide the support and assistance they need to remain active, independent, and safe in their community. In Massachusetts, Home LINKS is a collaboration between the National MS Society and the Massachusetts Department of Public Health. Chapter wide, this program is also supported by individual donors and private grants.

- Financial Assistance The chapter offers financial assistance to people with MS in a variety of categories to address medical necessities and everyday needs not covered by insurance or private resources. Nearly $263,000 was awarded to almost 500 individuals across all five states in the chapter during the fiscal year. An additional $150,000 was leveraged from partner organizations dedicated to helping people with MS or disabilities in general.
PARTNERS IN MS CARE  During fiscal year 2015, the Chapter welcomed the MS Center at Concord Hospital (NH), the MS Center at Dartmouth-Hitchcock (NH), and the MS Center at Maine Neurology Partners (ME) as three new Partners in MS Care, Centers for Comprehensive MS Care. Additionally, David Moultrup, LICSW was recognized as a Partner in MS Care, Mental Health provider in the summer, and Courtney Macksoud, DPT (RI) was reviewed and approved as a Partner in MS Care Rehabilitation Provider. Several MS Centers in Massachusetts and the MS Center of Northern New England in Vermont had their Partnership agreements renewed for an additional three year term.

WELLNESS PROGRAMS  As the National MS Society works to develop unbiased recommendations for diet and exercise, the Greater New England Chapter provided a range of community-based programs on wellness during fiscal year 2015. Among these offerings was reimbursement for the cost of physical wellness programs through MS Encompass, plus the training of wellness modality instructors to address MS issues.

EDUCATION PROGRAMS  The Society has long been the preeminent source for accurate and reliable information about MS symptoms, treatments, and resources. A complete library of publications is available in print and online. MS Navigators, trained professionals, are ready to help sift through the world of information and resources available to people with MS. An MS Navigator can be reached at 1-800-344-4867 or by sending email via the “contact us” section of the Society website, www.nationalMSsociety.org.

ONLINE LEARNING & SUPPORT  The Internet has become a highly effective tool to deliver vital resources and support for many people with MS, particularly those who have mobility and transportation difficulties. For those without computer resources, the chapter offers our Computer Outreach Program. MSconnection.org is an online community where people with MS can connect with each other to share experiences and coping strategies, and to provide mutual support. Additionally, there are numerous teleconferences and webinars on MS topics. Go to www.nationalMSsociety.org and click on “Living Well with MS” to find online opportunities.

LONG TERM CARE PARTNERSHIPS  The chapter has continued to provide support for long term care programs designed specifically for individuals with MS. B. Fit!: An Adult Day Program for People With MS celebrated its tenth anniversary this year and hosted a chapter-sponsored celebration that recognized long-term B.Fit! members and staff. The program continues to be strong and well-attended, with members reporting high levels of satisfaction. The Leonard Florence Center for Living – Sonya Slifka MS Residence continues to provide a contemporary living residential long term care model for 14 individuals living with MS. The chapter works with the directors of the Slifka House regarding census, staffing, and educational needs for both residents and staff.
The complexity of MS necessitates a comprehensive approach that will uncover solutions for everyone—
A research strategy that can fuel knowledge and speed better treatments, health care policies, and new disease and symptom management therapies.

MS research is the Society's highest priority, and we are increasing our annual investments yearly to drive solutions for every single person with MS.

The Society supports and funds research activities spanning ALL research stages, including early discovery research, translational research that brings promising ideas forward into actual therapeutic solutions for testing, and clinical trials. We offer a spectrum of funding opportunities and other resources to develop and support MS investigators at virtually every stage of their careers.

When Sylvia Lawry founded the National MS Society in 1946, multiple sclerosis research was almost non-existent. The disease took years to diagnose, and there were no therapies proven to slow the course of MS. We have made progress, but more must be done for those living with forms of progressive MS for which there are no current treatments. The hope—and potential—for new, more effective treatments for MS has never been greater.

To read about the significant research progress made this year, including links to details, go to nationalMSsociety.org/research.

- There are 16 therapies specifically approved for treating and managing MS, and more potential MS therapies in development today than at any other time in history.
- MS is more quickly diagnosed, enabling early and sustained therapy to slow disease activity.
- There is much greater awareness of the many symptoms of MS and ways to address them to improve quality of life.
- Scientists are making breakthroughs in identifying risk factors that can increase a person’s susceptibility to MS, which will help lead to ways to prevent the disease.

In 2015, the National MS Society exceeded our goal and invested nearly $54 million to support 380 research initiatives worldwide. Researchers located within the Greater New England chapter are recipients of a significant portion of the Society’s research funds and training grants.

The National MS Society and MS activists advocate at the federal, state, and local levels for increased MS research, access to quality care, disability rights, long-term services and supports, and awareness and organizational support.

During fiscal year 2015, our five states actively worked on 19 legislative, state budget, and regulatory issues. Many still continue for the second half of the session in January 2016. Highlights include the following legislative actions:

HOME MODIFICATION TAX CREDIT

In three states, Maine, Rhode Island and Vermont, MS activists are advancing home modification tax credit legislation to provide financial assistance for accessible home modifications. Home modification tax credits are designed to allow an individual homeowner, or a family, to recoup some of the cost of accessible modifications. Some tax credit proposals would also allow home builders to receive and benefit from tax credits if they build accessible housing. There are bills pending in each of these three states.

HOME LINKS

Home LINKS (Live Independently Navigating Key Services) is a care management program operating in all five states in our chapter that helps people with MS live independently and safely in the community. In Massachusetts, the program has been funded in part by the state budget since 2000, and is a collaboration between the National MS Society and the DPH to help more than 3,000 individuals with MS. MS Advocates successfully lobby the Massachusetts legislature to continue funding of Home LINKS.

ARCHITECTURAL ACCESS BOARD (AAB)

Massachusetts is unique in that it established the Architectural Access Board (AAB) to address accessibility issues before the American with Disabilities Act became law. However, the two sets of laws do not work well together and create obstacles and gaps for compliance and enforcement. Senate Bill 1869 would update the AAB’s jurisdiction where it falls short of ADA standards. (AAB does not cover employee-only spaces that are covered by ADA.) This change also provides for federal certification of the AAB code, meaning building owners and designers can ensure federal compliance when meeting state regulations. Advocacy efforts are ongoing.

Volunteers lead the Society into new directions and helped to expand the Society's impact by fully integrating their talents and skills and by developing new and enhanced community collaborations and partnerships.

In 2015, over 2,200 individual volunteers filled over 5,000 positions in Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, and Vermont. They gave 60,000 hours of their time, talents and expertise. MS volunteers are always relentlessly positive about their passion for our mission.
