Boston, MA (Greater Boston Area)

Contact: Deszarae Busi; Deszarae.busi@nmss.org, 1-800-344-4867 ext. 87111

Description: Student will rotate through multiple area Comprehensive MS Care Centers (including, but not limited to the Partners MS Center; the MS Clinic at Mass General; and Lahey Hospital’s MS Center) spending 2-4 days at each site. In this mentorship, students will observe clinical practices and gain exposure to the diagnosis and comprehensive treatment of patients living with MS as well as complementary specialties such as rehabilitation and mental health.

Cleveland, OH

Contact: Sallie Stephens, Sallie.Stephens@nmss.org, 1-800-344-4867 ext. 60106

Description: Placement is at the Cleveland Clinic’s Mellen Center for MS Treatment and Research. The student will have the opportunity to observe multi-disciplinary providers, including neurologists, neuropsychologists, neuro-ophthalmologists, rehab professionals, and advanced practitioners. In addition, the student may have the opportunity to observe clinical trial patients and work with research staff. Students must have their own transportation.

New Orleans, LA

Contact: Anna Moss, anna.moss@nmss.org, 1-800-344-4867 ext. 29781

Description: The student will shadow an MS Specialist and other providers in the MS team at the LSU MS Clinic. The student will observe clinical practices and gain exposure to the diagnosis and comprehensive treatment of patients living with Multiple Sclerosis. The student will also have the opportunity to observe an MS-certified specialty pharmacist with Walgreens inside Touro Infirmary LCMC Health. The student will gain exposure to the treatment options and pharmacology processes of MS.

Denver, CO

Contact: Molly Palmer, molly.palmer@nmss.org, 1-800-344-4867 ext. 15604

Description: The student’s primary mentorship location is a multi-disciplinary center specializing in MS care for adults and children, including access to rehabilitation, behavioral health, research, and other specialty care facilities. There is also a county hospital (Denver Health) and a VA hospital located at this site. The student may also choose to visit an adult day program center connected with the MS Center. Dates for this mentorship are flexible. Public transportation is available.

Dallas, TX

Contact: Anna Moss, anna.moss@nmss.org, 1-800-344-4867 ext. 29781

Description: Students will work with the neurology team in a Center for Comprehensive MS Care. In this mentorship, students will observe clinical practices and gain exposure to the diagnosis and comprehensive treatment of patients living with Multiple Sclerosis. Multiple mentors.

Nashville, TN

Contact: Sherry Bramucci, sherry.bramucci@nmss.org, 1-800-344-4867 ext 42202

Description: At Vanderbilt University School of Medicine, the clinical student mentorship includes several different disciplines to provide a well-rounded experience and can be customized according to the student’s interests. The student will have the opportunity to present at one of the Vanderbilt MS Journal Club meeting and to learn about the patient perspective by attending a local support group and patient-education program depending upon schedule. Transportation is needed to attend different clinic sites. Curriculum include:

1. Adult/ Pediatric MS Clinic – Vanderbilt – Green Hills
2. Rehabilitation Clinic – Vanderbilt campus
4. MRI Cases/ Evaluation/ Science – Vanderbilt campus
5. Neuro-Ophthalmology patients – Vanderbilt campus
6. Join research meetings of the MSCoE- Adult MS clinic at the VA
7. Research – Society funded MRI project using 7T-rings as a biomarker of disease severity in MS.

Durham, NC
Contact: Paige Dalton, paige.dalton@nmss.org, 1-800-344-4867 ext. 49207
Description: Students will be hosted by Duke University Hospital Comprehensive MS Center and will may also rotate through Raleigh Neurology Associates Comprehensive MS Center; Durham VA MS Center; Drayer Physical Therapy; Triangle Neuropsychology, UNC Center for Rehabilitation Care, and UNC School of Medicine Department of Neurology. In this mentorship, the student will observe clinical practices, gain exposure to the diagnosis and comprehensive treatment of patient living with MS, as well as clinical research and the development of an online MS management tool.

New York, NY
Contact: Andrea Arzt; andrea.arzt@nmss.org, 1-800-344-4867 ext. 64215
Description: Each student will be hosted at one center for comprehensive care located at a major teaching hospital in NYC. Students will also visit a variety of other learning sites including such as a rehab practice, a wheelchair fitting clinic, home visits of individuals living with MS, and other opportunities as they are available during the clinical mentorship.

Philadelphia, PA
Contact: Cynthia C. Tehan; Cynthia.tehan@nmss.org, 1-800-344-4867 ext. 24126
Description: The student will observe at four academic medical centers: Penn Comprehensive MS Center at the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania; Thomas Jefferson University Comprehensive MS Center; Temple University Health Network and St. Luke’s University Health Network in Allentown, PA. All mentors are experienced MS Specialists and have completed an MS Fellowship. Three of the academic medical centers are located in Philadelphia and are accessible by public transportation; a car is necessary to get to St. Luke’s.

Tampa, FL
Contact: Doris Lill, doris.lill@nmss.org, 1-800-344-4867 ext. 15167
Description: Students are hosted at the University of South Florida’s Comprehensive MS Center located in Tampa, FL. With over 2,000 MS patients within the system, students will have access to several MS-focused neurologists and gain exposure to multidisciplinary MS care. This includes neurology, neuro-ophthalmology, neuroradiology, mental health, rehabilitation, and MS clinical research. Students will also experience private practice neurology. Transportation throughout the Greater Tampa area will be required.