Networking and Learning Calls for Mental Health Professionals

These 50-minute, web-based calls are focused on developing a network of MS mental health professionals across the country with an opportunity to discuss complex situations, ask questions, and explore approaches to care and interventions to address the challenges of people living with MS and their families. The calls are interactive and conversational.

The calls are multi-disciplinary and targeted to social workers, family counselors, psychologists, psychiatrists, neuropsychologists and other licensed mental health professionals. Participants treat people living with MS in a variety of settings including medical facilities, long-term care or other community agencies, as well as in private practice.

FOR QUESTIONS and TO REGISTER for the call, please contact Andrea Arzt at andrea.arzt@nmss.org or Lynette Coleman at lynette.coleman@nmss.org.

Link/call in information will be given upon registration.
